An evening talk by Brian Margetson:

‘History in the Purbeck Landscape’

We may not fully appreciate it, but we are all living in the past! Whether it be Iron Age forts, Roman roads, medieval architecture or pre-Beeching railway lines, evidence of our past existence is etched into the countryside all around us. This fully illustrated talk discusses a fascinating selection of above ground archaeological remains in the area of Purbeck, their history and significance.

Thursday 22nd October, 7 for 7.30pm.

At Langton Matravers Village Hall
