An evening talk by Chris Suttle:

‘A Quarryman’s Tale’

Chris will describe his forebears' travels over three generations and how they finally came to rest on the Isle of Purbeck. We will learn about the trials, tribulations and events of quarrying in the 1960’s and 70’s, during his early years, and he will explain the way that decisions made at 23 years old would shape his future.
